

SCHOLARSHIP AVAILABLE FOR CCG MEMBERS:

Calimesa Community Garden Board of Directors is NOW offering one tuition scholarship for the University of California Cooperative Extension-San Bernardino County MASTER FOOD PRESERVERS COURSE. Recipient of this scholarship must be current CCG Member in good standing and willing to teach one Food Preserving class each year for the three years following completion of the course. Applicants must submit a 200 word document expressing why they are interested in taking the course and expressing their intent to teach the annual class for the next three years following completion of the course. In addition to the 200 word statement the applicant must include Name, address (and mailing address if different), phone (and cell phone) and email address. Applicants must indicate which the class start date in which they will enroll. Applicants should call Master Food Preservers at 909-387-2134 or email Pat Malone: liltxpm44@yahoo.com. Applicants must be submitted to CCG Board of Directors on or before December 29, 2011. Applications can be presented in person to a Board Member or mailed to Calimesa Community Garden, Master Food Preservers Scholarship, P.O. Box 219, Calimesa, CA, 92320.